Eritrean Association in Greater Seattle

One student had never used a computer before attending computer classes. One day, he came to class beaming with joy—he had signed up for further education and was on a path to obtain his GED.

Helping Link / Một Dấu Nối

One student achieved her U.S. citizenship after she learned how to use YouTube to practice mock tests. After she passed the official test, she sent a message to the Executive Director: “I am now a proud U.S. Citizen!”

Path with Art

A resident was paying $140/month for phone service that included many unnecessary features. They received help to change their phone provider and get subsidized internet. All the changes yielded a savings of $115/month.

Provail

A 19-year-old student with physical disabilities was able to access eye gaze assistive technology for the first time, allowing him to control his computer and communication device with his eyes. He has learned to send emails, build presentations, order food at restaurants, and communicate with coworkers, classmates, friends and family.

Villa Comunitaria

“I am 35 years old and a single mother with two children, one with disabilities. The digital navigator helped me enroll in low-cost internet. I was able to participate in multiple workshops such as financial literacy, digital skills, tenant rights, driving classes, classes on how to run a business, and recycling information.”

YWCA Seattle King Snohomish

One client lost her employment and her apartment. She received digital skills instruction and a laptop. She used her new laptop and skills to enroll in the Pharmacy Tech Assistant training offered in partnership with CVS and obtained employment at a CVS store.

4. Pursue private sector and philanthropic funding.

Solid Ground Washington

verizon✓

The project increased wireless connectivity through the installation of wireless access points (WAPs) at three sites: Wallingford offices, Sand Point Housing campus, and Broadview Domestic Violence Shelter & Transitional Housing.
